The readers of THE CAUCASIAN will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient streagth, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure.

Mr. Jones—Tommy, when your aunt comes you must kiss her and be very polite.
Tommy—No, Pa, you just bet I ain't going to kiss her.
Mr. Jones—Why not?
Tommy (aged 12)—Great Scott! Don't you ever read the papers? Half the divorce suits, and shooting scrapes come from kissing other men's wives.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Dr. R. H. Holliday's Drugstore, Clinton, N. C.

When you drive a nail into a wall, clothes press, or closet, to hang things on, drive it through a spool up to the head. Select a spool with a hole just large enough, so that the nail will not split it.

THE EDITOR'S CHAIR.

HOW THINGS LOOK FROM OUR STAND POINT.

The Opinion of The Editor and the Opinion of Others which we Can Endorse on the Various Topics of the Day.

Many scholars have been mentioned for the Chair at the University made vacant by the lamented death of Dr. Mangum, and we have been surprised that all have overlooked the State's most distinguished literatus, Prof. Henry E. Shepherd, President of the Charleston College, It is true that literature is his fort, but he would fill with distinction any station. Why not transfer Dr. Hume to the Chair of Mental and Moral Philosophy and place Prof. Shepherd in the Chair of Literature?

If you should receive a copy of "The Farm and Fireside," published at Washington, D. C. do not be misled by its false doctrines. In its leading editorial it says:

"We are now ready for the war upon all that outrages, robs and oppress American agriculture. Farmers, will you aid in so glorious a work?"

But this is a syrens voice—it is a lie. The paper is owned by monopolists and is intended to lead the farmer off the track.

The Washington Post of May the 21st says editorially:—Few of the Congressmen speaking under the five-minute rule have managed to crowd more logic and sarcasm into their speeches than did Mr. McClammy, of North Carolina. From the Democratic standpoint the North Carolina Congressman pointed out the vulnerable points in the pending measure, and he did it in a manner which cannot fail to impress on the minds of those who read his remarks that it is indeed hard to frame a tariff measure which is not open to sectional objection.

The News and Observer in a long editorial on the alliance and politics, says:

We do not object to the nomination of an Alliance man for any office, but we suggest that to outlaw all who are not Alliance men would breed ill feeling that might be very inconvenient hereafter.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. We expect to work for the election of Democratic ticket—and we would just as lief every man on, it should be an Alliance man as not, save and except it would be a great departure to outlaw those of our fellow-citizens who do not belong to that organization.

The alliance will "outlaw" no class or professions. But it is the duty which every farmer owes to himself and his country, whether a member of the order or not, to see that every man elected to legislate for the people is an alliance man in principle if not by membership. The farmer must and will have relief by stopping and blotting out class legislation that has worked so terribly to his detriment If the man who can and will do this with the most zeal and effectiveness is not a member of the order, the alliance will support him, for it will be to its interest to do so. The alliance is not organized to parcel the offices of the country out to its members, but to demand the righting of wrongs, and the enactment of just laws and the recognition and establishments of great principls.

It has been but little more than a quarter of a century since President Linclon predicted that corporations would be enthroned, that the property of the country would be concentrated, and that the Republic itself would be overthrown. Already the first two predictions have come true with the precesion and unerring certainty of the divine prediction of holy writ, and the Farmers' Alliance may be powerless to prevent the terrible realization of the third. If the order succeeds the dire calamity may be arrested. If it can make any impress on legislation and force the government to faithfully observe the execute for all the citizens alike, the guarantee of liberty, protection of property and the pursuit of happiness, then the gathering storm of righteous indignation at outraged justice will be dispelled before its fury is vent.

The people of Charlotte, who are as patriotic as they are interprising, will erect a monument to the memory of the signers of the famous Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. The shaft will be unveiled on the next anniversary, May 20th, 1891.

THE MONEY QUESTION.

Under this head for the last month we have been publishing from day to day the opinions of the world's greatest financiers upon the effects of contracting the currency. Stated in different languages and in varying illustrations they have all arrived at the conclusion that a diminution of the circulating medium to an amount below what is essential to be the business of the people is one of the very greatest evils that can afflict them—the greater because it is insidious and not discoverable except by the thoughtful, and involving a knowledge of affairs not possessed by the average man.

The reader who has followed, even with slight attention, the extracts from the works of these great thinkers and political economists, cannot fail to see that they have described as the evils consequent to the scarcity of money in other countries, all those which now so sorely oppress our people. They have proved that:

(1.) Contraction of the currency depresses prices.
(2.) Makes business stagnant.
(3.) Encourages speculation and gambling upon the exchange.
(4.) Fosters monopoly.
(5.) Puts the disorganized classes at the mercy of the speculators.
(6.) Strikes first and hardest at agriculture.
(7.) Destroys the faith and credit of those engaged in legitimate occupations.
(8.) Pauperizes the poor and makes princes of the rich.

They show us conclusively, also, (if any proof were needed that both gold and silver are the legitimate measures and media of exchange, that the demonitization of either is a fearful blunder, and that such demonitization coupled with the constant withdrawal from circulation of the paper currency is a crime against humanity. We intend to agitate the financial troubles now upon us until some remedy is found. Intelligent discussion and earnest attention of the people to this matter must result in some practical remedy. To conclude otherwise would be a reflection upon our people.—State Chronicle.

[Let the voters of each Congressional District, by all means, see that the man they send to Congress is sound on the money question.—Ed.]

BOYKIN AND ALLEN.

We are reluctant to anticipate the actions of any individual as to the exercise of his legal franchise much less the wishes of a large and intelligent community, but we feel safe in saying however, that the next nominating convention for the 6th Judicial District would certainly fail to reflect the earnest wishes of a majority of the best people, if the convention which is to be held on the 6th day of July next in the town of Kinston, does not name Hon. Edwin T. Boykin for Judge and Hon. O. H. Allen for Solicitor, for the sixth Judicial District.

From an extended friendship with these gentlemen, and being placed in a position by reason of professional duties to make an estimate of the learning, capacity, ability and Christian deportment of these gentlemen, we do not hesitate to say that the ermine could not grace more manly shoulders than Judge Boykin nor could the State be more fortunate in a prosecuting office than our clever, conscientious Oliver H. Allen.—La Grange Spectator.

WOMAN'S SPHERE.

DRESS.

It is every woman's duty, first to herself, second to her family, and third to society to appear neat, attractive and to an advantage in every way possible.

With the approach of warmer weather begins again the reign of the white cambric petticoat. The dark silk petticoats that have been so much worn during the cold months will be laid aside, and although light-colored silk petticoats will be worn somewhat, there can be nothing prettier, daintier or more refined than a prettily trimmed white cambric skirt. They will be worn entirely in the house under gowns of thin and light materials. These skirts are elaborately trimmed with torchon or valenciennes lace, and are ruffled and tucked. The front has a deep flounce edged with lace three inches deep; above this three small tucks and lace insertion two inches deep, three tucks and insertions; the back of the skirt has three laces on nainsook flounces, the laces falling a little over each other. Another skirt has an edging of torchon lace, over this a flounce of embroidered muslin, half over this a torchon lace ruffle on a muslin flounce, with three little tucks; the back with three flounces edged with torchon. These skirts are very similar, the difference being in the laces used and in the arrangement of the tucks and insertions, both skirts being made with one deep flounce in front and three behind.

Fancy ribbons in plaids, stripes or brocaded, are much in demand for garden hats or for hats for every day wear. These hats are usually of coarse straw, in dark colors, and are trimmed with loops of ribbon in front of the crown and behind.

Butterflies continue in fashion, They are in jet, steel, tinsel, lace or of ribbon, velvet or of anything that the mind of woman can devise.

In fact, we cannot go far wrong in the shaping of trimmings of a hat this season. If the large hat flares and does not suit your particular style of beauty bend it any way you please until you get the becoming bend, and you are all right. If you do not want a big hat there are innumerable small ones, one of which is sure to suit you.

So, too, with gowns. If the tight-fitting gown does not suit your figure the loosely draped gown and vest are quite as fashionable. All types of beauty and all kinds of figures may give thanks to Dame Fashion for this season's styles.

FASHION NOTES.

Polonaises are worn again.
Jerseys now come with velvet sleeves.
Leg-of-mutton sleeves should have only one seam.
The glory of the dress now rests in the corsage, the skirt being a secondary consideration.
Open-work effects are a notable feature of this season's dress garniture.
Spring bonnets this year are prettier than for a long time. The low crowns in bright colors or decked with tasteful flowers are a vast improvement over disgusting decorations of dead birds or the tall ungainly hat whose chief office it seemed was to prevent half the audience at an entertainment from getting a glimpse at the stage or performers.

THE VALUE OF A "SUPERIOR WIFE."

A Virginia jury in a lower court rendered a verdict of $6,000 for the loss by accident of a "superior" wife, and this finding was affirmed by the court above. So we can have no hesitancy if we have a superior wife in adding an extra $6,000 to our assets when making our report to Bradstreet and Dun.

A doctor of Toulouce, France, reports to the Academy of Medicine that he has discovered a sure cure for croup. It is a very simple one—a tablespoonful of flour of sulpher in a tumber of water. After three days of the treatment his patients were rescued from imminent death and fully recovered. What think our physicians of the new remedy?

Don't Feel Well,

And yet you are not sick enough to consult a doctor, or you refrain from so doing for fear you will alarm yourself and friends—we will tell you just what you need. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which will lift you out of that uncertain, uncomfortable, dangerous condition, into a state of good health, confidence and cheerfulness. You've no idea how potent this medicine is in cases like yours,

J. Wilson, Westbrook; Geo. W. Highsmith, Halls; Wm. S. Jackson, Mingo; John L. Autry, Dismal; Wm. J. Fisher, Honeycutt's; D. A. Cooper, Little Coharie; John Horne, McDaniel; Oscar J. Peterson, South Clinton; Captain James H. Robinson, North Clinton

The following are the questions to be asked:

1. Christian name in full.
2. Whether a soldier, sailor or marine during the civil war, (United States or Confederate), or widow of such person.
3. Relationship to head of family.
4. Whether white, black, mulatto, quadroon, octoroon, Chinese, Japanese or Indian.
5. Sex.
6. Age at recent birthday. If under one year of age in months.
7. Whether single, married, widowed, or divorced.
8. Whether married during the census year (June 1, 1889, to May 31, 1890.)
9. Mother of how many children, and number of these children living.

This inquiry is to be made concerning all women who are or have been married, including those widowed or divorced.

10. Place of birth.
11. Place of birth of father.
12. Place of birth of mother.
13. Number of years in United States.
14. Whether naturalized.
15. Whether naturalization papers have been taken out.

19. Able to read.
20. Able to write.
21. Able to speak English. If not, the language or dialect spoken.
22. Whether suffering from acute or chronic disease, with name of disease and length of of time afflicted.

If a person is suffering from acute or chronic disease so as to be unable to attend to ordinary business or duties, give the name of the disease and the length of time that it has lasted.

23. Whether defective in mind, sight, hearing, or speech, or whether crippled, maimed or deformed, with name of defect.

If a person is mentally or physically defective, state the nature of the defect.

24. Whether a prisoner, convict, homeless child or pauper.
25. Is the home you live in hired, or is it owned by the head or by a member of the family?
26. If owned by head or member of family, is the home free from mortgage incumbrances?
27. If the head of family is a farmer, is the farm which he cultivates hired, or is it owned by him or by a member of his family?
28. If owned by head or member of family, is the farm free from debt?

It is not within the choice of any inhabitant of the United States whether he will or will not communicate the information required by the census law. By the 15th sec. of the Act approved March 1, 1889, it is provided:

"That each and every person more than 20 years of age, belonging to any family residing in any enumeration district or sub-division, and in case of the absence of the heads and other members of any such family, then any representative of such family shall be, and each of them hereby is required, if thereto requested by the superintendent, supervisor, or enumerator, to render a true account to the best of his or her knowledge of every person belonging to such family in the various particulars required by law, and whoever shall willfully fail or refuse shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars."

Our Farmers' Column.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO THOSE WHO TILL THE SOIL.

"There is no material progress that is well based and permanent without agricultural progress."

The Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. John Robinson, is planning a series of Farmers' Institutes to be held at various points in the State, to be aided in the work by Professors Massey and Chamberlain, of the State Agricultural College. These meetings are entirely practical, and will no doubt be beneficial in broadening the ideas of the farmers and in giving them a better understanding of what scientific farming is. Many a farmer has used the wrong manure on a given lot or portion of the farm. We saw General David Clark, of Halifax county, buying a ship load of guano in 1860 for which he paid some $12 or $14 a ton. We asked why he did not use the Peruvian? He said he had had all parts of his vast plantation analyzed by a thorough chemist, and that his soil contained more than enough of the properties or elements to be found in the Peruvian. That he used supplied precisely what was lackeng in the soil and that he would not use the Peruvian at any price. By the way, we saw sixty ploughs running side by side in his vast river bottoms. It was pretty to see,

Which Grass Is Best.

Variety of grasses grown in the State. In order to find out which of the grasses was considered the best general purpose grass in the State, the following question was sent out by the State Commissioner of Agriculture:

What variety do you consider best? To this question there were 82 answers favoring orchard grass, 58 timothy, 23 red clover, and from 2 to 15 favoring the following varietes in their order, red top, herd's gress, crab grass, lucerne, Johnston grass, native meadow, millet, bermuda, bull grass, feather grass, pearl grass, dog foot and blue top. This array shows what varieties are sown, and is some indication as to which are most profitable in this State.

The "Reidsville Weekly" thinks there is a change for the better in boys leaving the farm and gives it expression in the following: "There was a time when our young men would flock from the farms to the towns and cities in search of lighter and more lucrative employment, but since public interest is becoming so clearly manifest in agriculture, and the best talent of the country is being appropriated to it, and labor-saving machinery and scientific methods are being so universally introduced, our boys are recognizing farming to be a field for the widest development, and many who have left them like true prodigals are returning and are again enlisting themselves in the "National necessity." God grant that this may continue, and His chosen profession may prosper."—Southern Farmer.

Says the "American Farmer," with great truth. It is a remarkable fact that a farmer who produces a large or unusually profitable crop, or one that has been unusually successful, you will find that he commenced farming with a small farm and only increased in size as his means increased and only as he could give the same care and attention to the additional acres that he formerly gave to the original. Small farms, as a rule, pay better than large ones. —Southern Farmer.

Oats are not only the most natural food for horses, but are decidedly the most nutritious. When properly cured they are the safest feed of any kind of grain, and horses fed on them will stand more fatigue than upon any other food.

Charcoal is a wonderfully useful article to feed to poultry. It acts on the blood and tones it up, the results of which are readily noticeable in the bright color of the comb and wattles and activity displayed by the chicken itself.

Alliance Department.

ALLIANCE NOTES, DISCUSSIONS AND THE DOINGS OF THE VARIOUS LODGES.

POPLAR GROVE ALLIANCE NO. 616.

Mr. Editor Dear Sir: At a regular meeting on May the 9th 1890 a resolution was passed and ordered to be sent to your paper for publication.

Whereas it is the object of this fraternity to put down all Trust Monopolys and combinations. Therefore be it resolved that we as a body of members do ignore the combination of the Doctors of Duplin county and condemn these resolutions of the Medical Fraternity.

L. M. LEWIS, Sec'y.

THE ALLIANCE.

What it is Doing in North Carolina.

The Chronicle had a short interview yesterday with Mr. E. C. Beddingfield, secretary of the Farmers' Alliance, and learned the following:

There are 2,095 sub alliances on the roll and over 2,065 in good working order, besides 94 county alliances. Every county in the State is now organized except Dare and New Hanover, both of which are expected to be organized during the summer. Over one hundred and twenty alliances have been organized since the 9th of January. The organization is in a healthy condition in almost every section of the State and a good crop of lecturers is at work in those sections where it is least properous. The members are taking more interests in public affairs than ever before and it is likely that the primary conventions in the rural districts will be very largely attended this summer.

The State Business Agency has been a decided success. The trade has fallen off somewhat in the last few weeks but they still do a large volume of business. It has saved thousands of dollars to the members of the Order during the past season.—State Chronicle.

The Progressive Farmer of last week had a thoughtful editorial upon the proposition laid down by some that the present low prices of agricultural products are due to over-production. It asserts that we raised 9½ bushels of wheat per capita in 1881 and 7½ per capita in 1887, and that the average price in 1881 was $1.15 per bushel and now it is 70 cents. We assume that these figures are correct. If so, it is clear that over-production is not what is the matter, and our contemporary calls upon the diagnosticians to guess again. It says the trouble is with the finacial system of our government, and we do not think the correctness of the conclusion admits of a doubt. The system which forces the farmer to sell his products in a free trade market and makes all of his purchases in a highly protected market, is one of the things that is the matter, and another, as we see it after considerable reflection, is the lack of a sufficient volume of currency in circulation. The Landmark is a convert to free silver coinage.—Statesville Landmark.

Side Issues.

Several substitutes for the Sub-Treasury plan have been offered. But our people should be careful how they bite at the baits thrown out. The strongest advocates of the bill have said time and again that they would accept anything better. But has such been offered? Senator Stanford has presented a bill for the government to loan money on real estate at a low rate of interest. No permanent relief would come from this. We want something that would last. It is plain that those who are not in debt would receive no benefit from that arrangement. This is simply a side issue, if we be allowed to so term it. Such men as Senator Stanford hope to pull over a portion of people, especially in the Northwest, and get us divided. "United we stand, divided we fall." That is the game. We must stick to the Sub-Treasury bill or something better. But some of our Senators are not well up in logic. It would be poor economy for us to ask the government to tax us and then loan the money back to us at even a low rate of interest. If it be loaned at one per cent. we would just be one per cent. poorer. No, thank you Bro. Stanford, the "same old game" won't work any longer, we mean business. There has been too much of this high tax business already; too much money-lending Let us keep our money when we get it; protect us from robbers, is all we ask.—Progressive Farmer.

The Money Question.

It (agriculture) is cruelly suffering from the reduced value of all produce. The farmers are paying their rents irregularly, or not at all; their stock in trade has often to be distrained to recover arrears of rent. The landowners are overwhelmed by mortgages. When at last, in order to extricate themselves, they try to sell their estates; they find no purchasers, or have to be satisfied with a price one third below former estimates. The discouragement is universal. No more agricultural improvements are being effected; employment is, consevuently, lacking; and there is great indigence. Hence that increasing emigration, for which special trains and steamers have to be arranged. It is a veritable exodus. What remedy for so much suffering?—M. Herr Von Barr.

The Farmers' Alliance of St. Joseph Mo., has undertaken a gigantic scheme to advance the price of wheat. A large elevator is to be built for the farmers who are members of the Alliance, and the wheat is to remain stored until it can be sold at $1 a bushel. In order to tide over the farmers who have their wheat thus stored, a new bank is to be established at St. Joseph, with a capital of $50,000, and the money be loaned to members at a very low rate of interest. Application for a charter has been made.

Children's Corner.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO OUR YOUNG READERS.

The Tattler.

What is a tattler? A vile leech sapping the life-blood of human happiness. A black, greedy vulture feasting upon the carrion of society. A busy body who listens gleefully to anything harsh you may say of your neighbor, either pettishly or in a joke and then carries it magnified or patched up to suit himself, and pours it scorching hot into the ears of perhaps your best friend; and after succeeding in getting him or her to say something equally harsh returns to you laden with his precious burden of strife and adds fuel to the smouldering fire. Little by little this ghoul of human society filches the happiness of human friendship and develops between the kindest of neighbors and the best of friends a feeling of hatred which should be known only to the bosom of demons. Are you a tattler? Do you sow among your neighbors the seeds of discord and hate? If so, in the name of humanity let us beg you to desist. We are all liable to err all to apt to say in a moment of sudden passion or in a silly joke things which an hour afterward in a cool reflection we may heartily wish unsaid. But deeper is the sin and thicker is the crime of him who taking our weakness for his capital effects the destruction of the happiness of his neighbors as his interest.

The General Conference of the M. E. Church South after a three weeks' session in St. Louis adjourned Tuesday. The next Conference will be held on the 1st Tuesday in May 1894.

So far the outlook is most encouraging for a good crop year. Farmers are working hard and economizing in every way possible. May abundant yields be their reward when gathering times comes.

Col. W. E. Anderson, President of the Citizens National Bank, Raleigh, N. C., and Grand Treasurer of the Grand Lodge of Masons of North Carolina, died of bright's disease at his home on Wednesday of last week.

The Senate Agricultural Committee has authorized an adverse report of Senator Vance's bill for the relief of farmers.—Messenger.

If the bill had provided for taxing the farmers, we expect the report would have been favorable.

This expectation is founded upon general observation.—Jonesboro Leader.

Governor Campbell of Ohio was interviewed by the New York Star at the Fifth Avenue Hotel on Tuesday. He said that Ohio would have an election this fall would go democratic. When asked on what ground he based this hope, he said that the Farmers' alliance was growing stronger each day in the State and that it was educating its republican members that no relief from the tariff or the monetary system could be expected through the Republican party.

The Memorial Volume of the University Centennial Celebration is upon our table. It contains The Original Charter; An account of the Alumni Banquet, the Toasts and the Responses; the Special Exercises of the Class of 1879; The Special Exercises of the Class of 1868; The Centennial Alumni Reunion by Classes in Memorial Hall, with the Speeches by the Class representatives; also a list of the Alumni present. It is a handsome bound volume. Price, $1 per volume, cloth; 50 cents, paper. Our thanks to Messrs. Jno. Manning, G. T. Winston and F. P. Venable, committee on publication, for a copy.

The Catalogue of the University of North Carolina is before us, showing two hundred students an increase of thirteen over last year. The Law school is flourishing, having thirty-three students. The large number of post graduates (14) shows that our young men are seeking higher instruction. The Medical and Pharmaceutical department, under Dr. R. H. Whitehead, will be opened in September next. We note that departments of Civil, Electrical and Minning Engineering are to be opened also. Large and valuable additions of apparatus have been added to the departments of Physics, Chemistry and Natural History. A new course, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Letters, is established, in which all studies, after the first year, except English, are elective, thus giving additional opportunities for the choice of studies, looking peculiarly to the business the student intends to pursue. We are glad to see the University growing in efficiency and membership.

AN OLD FASHION, TARIFF REFORM DEMOCRAT.

The late Samuel J. Randall was an high protectionest. Vaux, the man whom the Pennsylvania Democrats have nominated for Randall's successor is said to be an old fashion, low tariff Democrat, a great admirer of Jefferson and an enthusiastic supporter of Hickory, Jackson. The following is the tariff plank of the platform on which he was nominated.

That the great and varied industries of Philadelphia and the maintenance of compensating wages for labor absolutely demand tariff reform that will give our industries free raw materials, greatly reduce the cost of the chief necessaries of life and overthrow all trust and combines, which certainly oppress the masses.

Both parties have solemnly promised (?) and revenue reduction and we demand that the pledge shall be kept by Congress by free raw materials for industries; the removal of all needless taxes on the necessaries of life and the reduction of all tariff taxes which have bred and fostered monopoly combines.

It is encouraging to see that light is at last breaking on the benighted tariff strong hold of Pennsylvania.

A CORRECTION.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 23, '90.
MR. EDITOR,

Dear Sir: In your issue of 22d you quote Mr. Elias Carr as writing to Mr. Britton that the News and Observer had made some charges, in "which charges were replied to at the time by Mr. Moye and declined publication in the News and Observer."

Mr. Carr is in error. Mr. Finger, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, having seen in the Progressive Farmer, January 21st. the resolutions you printed:—

Resolved, That we, the Farmers' Alliance of Pitt county, demand that our representatives in the next General Assembly use their utmost endeavors to ABOLISH or affect a reform in the present banking system.

Spoke to me about it and said that there was considerable opposition to the public schools, and it was growing, etc., and as a result of his suggestions I wrote a few paragraphs. What we said of the Pitt Alliance was:

"It is stated that the Pitt County Alliance has pronounced against the public schools. Many are tired of paying money out to educate the darkeys, we presume."

Mr. Moye wrote us, and I immediately on receiving his letter, in my issue of the 26th of January said, editorially, "We are informed that the report of which we made mention recently that the Pitt County Alliance had pronounced against public schools is incorrect," and I printed in the same issue, January 26th, all of Mr. Moye's letter that related to this subject, being about 300 words. You can see how much that would make in print.

Mr. Moye's letter contained some disrespectful expressions in regard to myself, which he must have known I would not print—and I did not print that part of his letter, but returned it to him.

You see Mr. Carr is in error. I have written to him and to Mr. Britton on this subject and would be obliged to you to use such part of this as you may deem proper.

The News and Observer never makes a misstatement knowingly, and if it makes one through misinformation, it corrects it at the first opportunity. How far Maj. Finger was wrong every one can judge by reading the resolutions in your paper of the 20th. I never saw them until this morning in your paper.

Very Respectfully,
S. A. ASHE.

DAVIS SCHOOL.

The Davis School will be moved from La Grange to Winston-Salem. The school will be located on large, beautiful grounds a short distance from town. Handsome buildings will be completed by the opening of the session next September. The equipments of the entire institution will be first-class in every particular. Davis School is one of the largest Military School in the South. Many sections of the United States are represented every year. The new location of the school is not surpassed anywhere. It is a beautiful country famous for health.

Warsaw Items.

A canning factory is all the talk and we think there will be no trouble in securing the desired subscription of ($1,000) to forward the movement. There is no doubt such an enterprise would pay handsomely, and we hear a man say that he could furnish tomatoes at twenty-five cents a bushel and clear over two hundred dollars per acre on all land cultivated. Half this amount would beat cotton; besides our truckers could convert their surplus berries, which are now given away, into money if they had the advantages of such a factory.

Last Thursday night witnessed the closing exercises of the Warsaw High School, and to say that all acquitted themselves with credit and honor, would not be doing the young ladies justices. Miss Vallers, the music teacher, certainly deserves credit for the pains she has taken with the girls. In the Literary department, Prof. Merritt and Miss Hines have done fine work. Four gold medals were given, as follows: For proficiency in Orthography among the larger students, Miss Rena Mathews of Sampson county; In the primary department, to Miss Ludie Middleton. For highest average in all studies to Miss Nell W. Johnstone; and for best deportment to Miss Stella Middleton. The school will open under same management the first Monday in August and we bespeak an increase patronage for the same.

RIX.

THE BEST.

The thing to be particularly noticed is how completely newspaper advertising has been separated from its association with an inferior class of trade. The great advertisers now are the leading houses not alone in the extent of their business, but in its recognized character. The finest goods of every sort, the most fashionable clothing for men and women, the most costly furniture, carpets and ornaments, whatever a purchaser can possibly want that is rich and fine as well as what is useful and cheap, he expects to find described for him in the paper.

And the result of this is beneficial both for the dealers and for the public. The largest and best advertisers are everywhere those that do the largest and best trade, while the facilities for shopping have wonderfully increased and the people buy more and better goods than they ever did before. They are better dressed, their homes are better furnished, they enjoy more of the comforts and luxuries of life that at any previous period, and one main cause of this is the general quickening of trade that naturally results from intelligent advertising.—Philadelphia Times.

POSTSCRIPTS.

As the census enumerator will soon be around, it might be well for the girls to try to recollect how old they are, so as to save any revision of the return.

In the matrimonial market it doesn't make so much difference about a girl's complexion if her income is only fair.

If promises were as easily filled as made, it would take a very small capital to start up in almost any business.

Don't trust too much in Providence; get up and hump yourself a little. Providence is all right but you must perform your part of the contract also.

We do not know who this quotation is original with, but it is a ringing truth: "Narrow minds think nothing right that is above their own capacity."

It will be gratifying to the many friends and admirers of Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., now of New York, to know that he will lecture in Goldsboro on June 12th. His subject will be "Playing the Fool." "How to Cure all Skin Diseases."
Simply apply "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for SWAYNE'S Ointment.

The Japanese Pear.

Nashi, the Japanese pear, is in season about the middle of September. Its form is like that of many American apples, round and somewhat flattened at both ends. It is not pyriform, or pear shaped, as we understand the word, at all. They are large, about three inches in diameter, with thick, rough skins of a russet or bronze yellow color. The skin is also covered with little gray spots. The varieties do not differ much either in size, shape, color or flavor, whereas the American varieties differ enormously in all these respects. The flesh is rather coarse, of a light yellow color, very juicy but firm and not mellow, and lacks entirely the aroma and flavor of the American pear. They seem to me watery and as destitute of flavor as a potato. They are, however, largely grown and much liked by the Japanese.—Cor. Detroit Free Press.

Hot Water for Sleeplessness.

A most wretched lier awake of thirty-five years' standing, who for ten years has thought himself happy if he could get twenty minutes sleep in the twenty-four hours, said: "I took hot water—a pint, comfortably hot, one good hour before each of my three meals and one the last thing at night—naturally, unmixed with anything else. The very first night I slept for three hours on end, turned round and slept again till morning. I have faithfully and regularly continued the hot water, and have never had one 'bad night' since. Pain gradually lessened and went; the shattered nerves became calm and strong, and instead of each night being one long misery spent in wearying for the morning, they are all too short for the sweet, refreshing sleep I now enjoy."—London Spectator.

A Humorist's Philosophy.

People ask me, why are you so jolly? Why should I not be? I have no enemies. I always come with laughter. When I enter a room jolity comes with me and I am welcome. If I meet you on the street, I have a joke to tell you. If anybody says, "How do you do?" I never say, "I am bad, very bad indeed," because people don't care to hear about my troubles.

Meet the world with a smile and you will be surprised to find how kind it will be to you. In order to appreciate this, people need only be a little afflicted.

Look at that ambulance coming down the street. See how quickly the crowd gets out of its way.—Marshal P Wilder.

To Make Hanging Painless.

An Englishman has invented a machine for hanging a man (or woman if it becomes necessary) in a manner perfectly painless to the subject undergoing the extreme penalty of the law. The rope is passed through a brass clamp double, forming a loop; attached to the clamp is an iron crescent, so adjusted as to rest on the shoulders. When the trap is sprung the head is pressed to one side, while the rope pulls it in the opposite direction. The vertebra is snapped and death is instantaneous.—The Chicago Times.

A Dog's Queer Mania.

An aged dog belonging to a man living on Fourth avenue is possessed of a mania for attacking people wearing gum boots. The dog is very peaceable except when a boy or man wearing gum boots goes past. Then he seems to smell the boots, and, springing over the low fence, makes a ferocious attack upon the wearer. His teeth are very poor, so that he does but little damage, further than to scare those attacked.—Beaver Falls Tribune.

No Improvement.

An old lady who witnessed a production of "The Merchant of Venice" many years ago went again recently to see the story of Shylock enacted upon the stage. Upon her return home she was asked how she liked it. "Wall," said she, "Venice seemed to have been spruced up some since the first time I saw it, but Shylock's just the same mean, ordinary thing he was forty years ago."—Harper's Magazine

A Modern Miracle.

Jack—What miracle is this? Thought you were dying, and now you look robust.

Jim—No miracle. Been resting at the seashore, and eating shad and bluefish.

Jack—Just as I thought. A modern miracle. A case of one loaf and a few small fishes.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

One of the largest forests in the world stands on ice. It is situated between the Ural and the Okhotsk sea. A well was recently dug in this region, when it was found that at a depth of 116 meters the ground was still frozen.

Saved by a Mirror.

A lunatic saw the reflection of a man's form in a mirror, and taking it for an enemy in the next room, snatched up his pistol and fired at the figure. The bullet struck it in the head. The crazy man was secured before he could reload his weapon, and the other man's life was saved.—Youth's Companion.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get
"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's
When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy.

Mr. J. C. Henderson, General Manage Chatanooga Southern R. R. Co., says he does not believe there is a case of Rheumatism that Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy will not cure, and that it is the finest medicine for indigestion he has ever used.

Rev. C. J. Gibson, D. D., Petersburg, Va., says: I have used Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy in my own family, and it gives me pleasure to say it has proved a valuable Tonic and Purifier of the Blood, and if thoroughly tested, I think will remove many cutaneous disorders.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Oct. 23, '89.
MRS. JOE PERSON—Dear Madam—About April, 1887, I treated Sam Privett for Scrofula affecting the glands of the neck. I had done for him all that could, and considered his chances for life very small and told so, and that if you would benefit him with your Remedy, I would give you a certificate of the fact. That you have done your part the boy is now a living witness, and I shall not hesitate to furnish your Remedy in any similar cases I may be called upon to treat. I am very truly, THOS. HILL. M, D.

His Wife Suffered From Erysipelas.

Mr. John O. Rogers, of Dana, Illinois, writes as follows under date of March 27, 1890: "My wife was for years an invalid from a blood trouble, and suffered terrible at times from Erysipelas. She tried many remedies advertised as blood purifiers, but received no benefit. A few bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured her of Erysipelas and other blood troubles. From the first her appetite increased, and her general health improved in every way. She considers S. S. S. the best blood purifier and tonic she ever saw, and is willing for anoy one suffering as she was to be referred to her.

His Blood Poisoned by Cow Itch.

About five years ago my blood was poisoned with cow itch, and every spring since then I have been troubled with the poison breaking ont in large sores all over my body. I tried various remedies without receiving any benefit. Three bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) effected a complete and permanent cure, when all other blood remedies had failed.

LOCALS.

—Interesting communications from Autryville and Dismal came too late for publication in this issue.

—We welcome Mr. Giles Clute and family to town. They have rented the residence of Mr. C. P. Johnson, and he is boarding with them.

—Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson will visit Clinton again and confirm a class in St. Paul's church on next Friday night, May 30th. Services will begin at 8½ P. M.

—Invitations are out to the closing exercises of the Clinton Female Institute on Tuesday and Wednesdays evenings, June 10th and 11th. The art exhibit will be on Wednesday, the 11th.

—The Magistrates meets next Monday to elect a Board of County Commissioners for the ensuing year. The finances of the county have been carefully, wisely, and economically managed by the present very efficient board, and we suppose it will be unanimously re-elected.

—We asked two questions concerning Railroads last week. In this issue a correspondent, "Pomona," askes some timely and pertinent questions of local and immediate concern, which also refer to "K" and the W. & W. Railroad for their generous consideration.

—The local paper may cost a few cents more at the close of the year than the city papers, but it is the local paper that advertises your business, your schools and your churches. It is your local paper that mentions the thousand and one items during the year in which you are interested and that you don't find in the city papers.—Ex.

—Mr. Chadwick, President of the A. & N. C. R. R. writes to Mr. E. W. Kerr that he will send up a special car to Goldsboro on the morning of July the 9th connecting with the morning train on the W. & W. to take the delegates from this part of the district down to the judicial convention at Kinston. This will enable the delegates to leave home on Wednesday morning, the same day that the convention meets.

—Up to date 4,953 boxes of beans alone have been shipped from this place to the Northern markets. This is much larger than the amount shipped last year at this time. In addition large quantities of Irish potatoes, turnips, strawberries, asparagus, etc., also have been shipped. This quantity of truck ought to have put, up to now, at least $15,000 in circulation if our people could get anything like a fair price for their products.

—There will be a special meeting of Hiram Lodge, No. 98 on Thursday night, June 5th, for the purpose of conferring the Third or Master Mason Degree. Past Master, Samuel Northrop, and others will be present from Wilmington, N. C. All Master Masons in good standing are invited. Mr. Northrop will remain over on Friday and he present and give instruction and confer degrees in the Royal Arch Chapter, recently organized here.

—No paper can be pubiished without home patronage, and every one is interested in keeping up a home paper. If a railroad or factory is wanted, the newspapers are expected to work for it. If a public meeting is wanted for any purpose, the newspaper is expected to give the necessary notice. The newspaper must puff the schools and every body else to advance the business men of the place, and then give them a handsome notice when they pass away.—Ex.

—We have just received the initial number of the Jackson (Ga.) Vidette. It contains a handsome portrait of our former countyman, Mr. C. G. Fennell, and has the following to say of him:

Mr. C. G. Fennell, whose picture appears above is the junior member of the enterprising firm of Dempsey & Fennell. Although quite young he is considered one of the best business men in the city. He is active, energetic and pushing. The firm of Demsey & Fennell has grown and prospered to a degree that is surprising. Last year they sold from seventy and seventy-five thousand dollars worth of goods and will nearly double that this year. Mr. Fennell's whole thought and soul is in his work, therefore success is his. He knows what his patrons want, buys in large quantities, at a close figure and gives those who deal with him the benefit of his experience and sound judgment. Mr. Fennell came here an entire stranger, but by his integrity and upright dealing he has won a host of friends, as his already large and increasing business goes to demonstrate. He marks his goods at Alliance prices and those who trade with the firm of Dempsey & Fennell can feel assured that they are getting goods at as low figures as they can possibly be bought.

TAYLOR'S BRIDGE.

Rev. W. C. Merritt, son of Mr. A. H. Merritt, who is in school at Trinity College, will come home the 1st of June to take the census for this township. Mr. Merritt's friends will be glad to learn that he has been elected by his (Columbian) Society, one of three speakers to represent the Freshman class at Commencement. This is an evidence that Mr. Merritt has been at work in his Society, though he has been here but a short time. Sampson county has three boys at Trinity, all members of the Freshman class, and they were all elected to represent their Societies next commencement. This township furnishes two of them, Mr. Thos. T. James being the other.

DISMAL.

Died, at the residence of J. L. Daniel in Sampson county, on the 27th of March 1890, Mrs. Susan Powell, aged eighty eight years eleven months and fourteen days She had been a faithful member of the Missionary Baptist church for about 70 years. She suffered much badly afflictation for a number of years before her death which she leaves with christian patience and fortitude. MAG.

PINEY GROVE.

Come out to-morrow to the closing exercises of Goshen Academy and hear the address of the talented C. B. Aycock.

LISBON.

Rev. C. P. Jerome preached an interesting sermon to the little folks at Johnson Chapel last Sunday. His flutter wheel illustration was fine.

The Rev. Mr. Newkirk, of the Presbyterian Church, preached at the residence of Mr. Henry Carter. Quite a number in attendance. We understand he made a good impression. He will preach at Garland (in Johnson's Hall) the 2nd Sunday in June. Our Presbyterial brethren are contemplating building a church at Garland in the near future.

Miss Lilly Turlington is visiting Miss Minnie Lamb.

Mr. Isaac Boykin, near Lisbon, is quite sick with fever. We hope he will soon be up again.

Our bachelor associate has a fine dwelling in course of erection. Look out girls.

The people of Ingold and a portion of Bladen are exceedingly anxious about our representative from Halls. Let him report in person.

Mr. Editor, Ingold has an educated mule, whose fondness for certain company is similar to that of his owner. On one occasion he broke out of his stall and followed them to church. After services he accompanied the parson. I would like to know the conversation between the mule and parson.

THE BOYS.

MCDANIELS.

Rev. T. M. Leary will preach at Elizabeth Church next Sunday.

NEWTON GROVE.

Weather is mild and seasons nice. Our farmers seem to have done more work this spring than we have ever known in one spring before.

Corn crops look favorable. Cotton has come up the best and looks the strongest we have seen in several years.

Judging by the past and present we will have a grand harvest this fall, for the planters have used more home-made manures and done more work than ever before, and at this time crops are in good condition.

HONEYCUTTS.

Mr. Daniel Wooten, one of the oldest men in this township, died last week. His age is somewhere between 85 and 90.

NORTH CLINTON.

Mr. Richard Page has the best corn and Mr. Hardy Bennett the best cotton we have seen.

TURKEY.

The Dr. J. R. Marable mill pond was drawn off yesterday. Fishing tickets were sold at $1 each, a large number of persons bought them and went in for the fun and profit, an immense quantity of fish were caught.

Salem High School.

The closing exercises of this school took place on last Thursday and Friday. On Thursday evening the exercises of the Young Ladies' Literary Club were greatly enjoyed. Misses Lela Cooper, Jennie Fowler, Maria Royal and Nela DeVane were the representatives. This exercise was followed by the childrens' exercises and a concert by the music class under the management of Miss Havens Cherry.

On Friday morning came the contest for declamation medal, which was won by Mr. B. K. Pugh.

ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Mr. F. R. Cooper in introducing Prof. B. F. Grady, the orator of the day said the gentleman whom he had the honor to introduce was one eminently fitted to give wholesome instruction and to stimulate profitable thought with old and young alike. He was raised on a farm, educated at college and had been acquiring and adding to his store of knowledge ever since; he had been a teacher and instructor of the young, and was now a distinguished educator; he was engaged in agricultural pursuits, and in the midst of a rural section, yet the State had no citizen better posted on the great questions that are now agitating the farmer world and that so vitally concerns our welfare. Prof. Grady arose amid applause, & immediately put himself on good terms with his audience and proceeded in a practical, earnest and impressive manner to more than meet the expectations raised by the very complimentary introduction. His arraignment of the schools, pointing out the defects in the education we give our children, was new and striking. Our method of education is a relict of barbarism, it is backwards, it educates men for professions and leaves the plough-handles and other industrial pursuits to stolid ignorance. His views were similar to those held by Prof. Buckhanan in that powerful and famous book, "New Education." But he even went further than Prof. Buckhanan and showed that our depressed condition to-day was due to a great defect in our education. The Farmers' Alliance is trying to remedy this defect with its members, and the schools should commence the same instruction now with the young. We patriotiely adore liberty in the abstract, but are ignorant of the fact that we have no longer the liberty, the herritage from our fore-fathers, that money used as satans tool in the hands of greedy and thieving monophy have already robbed us of our birthright and we are to day groaning under the worst kind of bondage.

We wish every citizen of the county could have heard and pressed to his bosom these burning truths for an awakening to their significance is our only solvation from our present condition.

The debate by the Phi. Literary Society was very creditable to the young men. The medal was won by Mr. Holmes Fowle.

Mr. G. E. Butler, the clever and energetic principal announced that the next session of the school would open on the 2nd Monday in August.

"Wrinkles" a comedy was finely rendered at night by the Salem amature club.

This excellent school has been running for 17 years, the community is justly proud of it and its marked success.

The State Chronicle.

Everybody in North Carolina knows the character of the State Chronicle published at Raleigh. It has always been a progressive, independent newspaper since its establishment seven years ago by Mr. Walter H. Page. Afterwards, under the editorship of the lamented Capt. Randolph A Shotwell, it had no superior as a bold, fearless, honest Democratic weekly. For more than four years now it has been under the management of Mr. Josephus Daniels, who has gathered around it the best talent in the State. Its circulation has grown rapidly until it now has the largest circulation ever attained by any politica paper in Raleigh. It has gained that circulation:

1. By plain truth telling.

2. By printing the news and all the news.

3. By having convictions and expressing them without fear or favor.

4. By an earnest and aggressive championship of Democratic principles.

5. By standing by the rights of the people against any powers or corporations.

Recently the paper has been improved and gives its subscribers more matter every week than ever before. In order to place it in every family in the State the subscription price has been reduced to $1.25 per year. The management of the paper expects to add 5,000 new subscribers during the present year.

Timely and Pertinent Questions.

DEAR CAUCASIAN: Excuse me if I inquire of you whether the W. & W. R. R. Authorities in volutarily(?) offering to pay taxes to the State is equaled by their liberality in equipping the passenger coach on the C. & W. branch? Which is the first-class of the Coach?

Why charge a different rate for permission to select divisions?

ruly in this instance the W. & W. is "no respecter of persons."

Why is this thus? If they are unable to provide a better car for this road without interferring with their $600,000 per annum profit, could they be induced, do you think, to buy a street sprinkler to lay the dust in one end of the car so we might know which is the first-class end.

In sober earnest, is it not a shame upon the management to provide such accommodations and then expect ladies to submit without asking questions?

"How long wilth thou abuse our patience?"

Yours truly,
POMONA.

P. S.—Has Mr. Walters ever seen the interior of our passenger coach? Do you think he would ride in it with his "Sunday clothes" on?

DR. B. F. MARABLE'S SERMON.

How Young Men Get Into Society And Don't Get In.

(Reported by S.)

A very interesting sermon upon society was delivered by Dr. Marable at the Presbyterian church on last Sunday evening, Isaiah LV, 8. He said: For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways saith the Lord. God's methods are not as man's methods, God thinks on the line of truth. He is the author of all truth, and he is the truth. I am the the way the truth the life. God's acts are on the line of right. If God should think one thing not a truth there would be no truth. If he were to do one act wrong, it would immediately revolutionize the whole universe, from inpurity to impurity, and there would be no right, no wrong, no justice. He does not deviate from the path of right. How true, God's ways are not our ways, we see the difference illustrated in all and every relation of life. But in none so distinctly and plainly marked as the estimate man places upon man, as that in contradistinction placed on him by God. We see it most strongly marked in social life. Whenever a young man goes in a new community, he stands a trial before society. This is the tribunal by whom he is to be judged, and it depends upon its decision whether he is admitted or not. He comes without counsel, for he is not allowed any, and his case is adjudicated without his presence. Before he is taken in the fold, society asks such questions as these: is he handsome? yes; has he good manners? yes; does he dress well? yes; is he of good family? yes. With those questions answered in the affirmative society is satisfied, he is admitted and acknowledged a peer. And is free to enjoy all the privileges that society affords. You may suggest his lack of character. He is not always truthful. You may urge his wanting in morals, and strenuously persist. He is dissipated; but society, says this is all right, this can be overcome and overlooked if he is a man of strong and defined traits of mind. For my thoughts are not your thoughts saith the almighty God of all that ever was, is and can be. Then there is another young man tried before a bar, he has rugged exterior, he may come of obscure parentage. His face is brown, his hands are hard, his hair unkeped, but a heart that is pure. The same questions are asked; is he handsome? no; has he good manners? no; does he dress well? no; is he of good family? no. He is not admitted. He does not understand the pomp and glitter of society he does not dress well because he is poor, and would not had he the means, because dress has become one of the fine arts and requires a life of study. Show me one lady who studies and reads the standard works and I will show you a dozen to one who reads nothing but the fashion plates. He has not good manners, does not know how to tie his cravat, probably was never in a social gathering in his life, could not walk across a parlor and not stumble over a chair. And would be on thorns under the glare and dazzle of the society of the present day. Is he of good family, no, probably the most distinguished member of his family was a 4th corporal in a malitia company. Society blackballs him, we don't want him. It may be that young men is all honor, no duplicity in his nature, he knows nothing about it. He never betrayed a trust, nor a friend. You can trust him with your gold, your fair name, and he will keep it sacred. He loves God, loves truth, faithful to his mother and her teachings. He knows none of the evils and vices of mankind, and while he was growing up his mother put the truths of the holy Bible in his mind; and with rough exterior, pure heart, and love of God, he goes forth in the world, and by his own force and determination he forces his way into society. Such men conquer, break down the barriers and a crowning victory is theirs.

We look back and we see such men as Jno. Adams and men of that type, rise despite all opposition. They command the highest positions in life. Then there are others who knock for enterance are not admitted, and are driven away, and they do not come to the front because they lack strength and force of will and power and they go back, are driven to obscurity again and die unknown to the world, and thus society has pressed to the wall many a noble man who would be a shining light to the world. The one, society has accepted to the 1st place, will stand rejected before God. What does He care for handsome face, and a defiled soul. God looks to the other qualities. Uppermost, the love of truth and honor, virtue integrity and sincerity, without these, no young man can rise either to temporal greatness or stand justified before the bar of God, and the others He will drive away as the chaff before the wind. Let society be careful, don't look at him by man's ways, but God's, give him a chance before you drive him out and see what is in him. Take by the hand and lead on and upward. The relation that woman sustains to society can wield a great influence for good. But often they are the ones hurt.

Suppose an intimacy between them, spring up and marriage is proposed. Her father objects. Her brothers persuade and tell her she doesn't know the truth, they do; she flies to society and takes the verdict it his given, rejects the interferance of her parents and jumps in to a life of hopeless ruin and destruction.

How many lives are wrecked, how we ruin young men and young women by this superficial estimate. Let us judge as God judges and take his holy word for our safe guard and all will be well.

Shakespearian Club.

The Clinton Shakespearian Club met Monday night and was entertained at the residence of Capt. Faison, at Elliot. The tragedy, Hamlet, was under study. The principal part of the discussion was whether or not Hamlet was really mad or feigned madness. The following are a few of the gem passages selected:

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be;
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry."

"Something is rotten in the state of Denmark."

"'Tis true; 'tis true, 'tis pity; and pity 'tis 'tis true."

"For there is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so."

"Use every man after his desert, and who should 'scape whipping?"

"And the devil hath power to assume a pleasing shape."

"We are oft to blame in this,—
'Tis too much proved—that with devotion's visage
And pious action we do sugar o'er
The devil himself."

"God has given you one face, and you make yourselves another."

"'Tis as easy as lying."

"Words without thoughts never to heaven go."

"Confess yourself to heaven; repent what's past; avoid what is to come; and do not spread the compost on the weeds."

"When sorrows come, they come not single spies, but in battalions."

"There's a divinity that shapes our ends, Rough-hew them how we will."

The programme for the next meeting, which will be in Clinton at the residence of Mrs. Fowle, June 6th, is as follows:

Play—King Richard III.
Mr. F. R. Cooper--King Richard.
Mr. W. S. Thomson--Margaret.
Dr. J. A. Stevens--King Edward IV.
Miss Florence Faison—Lady Anne.
Miss Willie Bumgardner--Henry Earl of Richmond.
Miss Madge Faison--Quotations from Play.
Miss Phi Williams—Queen Elizabeth.
Miss Nannie Faison--Review of Play.

Godey for June comes to us laden with richness of thought and intellectual fatness. Ladies need this periodical to make their households complete. It is worth double the price of a year's subscription. Godey's Lady's Book Company, Philadelphia, Pa. Price, $2.00 per year.

"Tired All the Time,"

Say many poor men and women, who seem overworked, or are debilitated by change of season, climate or life. If you could read the hundreds of letters praising Hood's Sarsaparilla which come from people whom it has restored to health, you would be convinced of its merits. As this is impossible, why not try Hood's Sarsaparilla yourself and thus realize its benefit? It will tone and build up your system, give you a good appetite, overcome that tired feeling and make you feel, as one woman expresses it, "like a new creature."

Lee's Backache Plasters!

In North Carolina's sunny clime,
Their wond'rous virtues, fadeless still,
Exert an influence sublime
In ministering to human ill;
And many a pang along our way,
Lee's Plasters doth allay.

You can cure a bad case of Backache quicker with one of Lee's plasters than by any other application, and after the backache is cured, you can still wear the plaster with comfort for a month or longer. This plaster is a great discovery, and it is hard to find any pain or ache that will not yield to it. Prepared only by T. J. LEE, Druggist.

NEW BARBER SHOP.

When you wish an easy shave,
As good as barber ever gave,
Just call on us at our saloon
At morning, eve or noon;
We cut and dress the hair with grace,
To suit the contour of the face.
Our room is neat and towels clean,
Scissors sharp and razors keen,
And everything we think you'll find;
To suit the face and please the mind,
And all our art and skill can do,
If you just call, we'll do for you.
